

Single-neuron tensor-shape flow

Thirty input features require thirty weights. One output neuron contributes one bias and one probability per sample.